

RISK ASSOCIATED WITH STRATEGIES

- Technical failures can occur: there can be times where you experience technical issues such as software updates, power outages, connection problems and other related problems that can have a direct effect on the performance of the expert advisor.
- EA may not be coded for every different scenario, and may act differently in certain circumstances to the way you expected.
- You may lose some control of your account if you are not monitoring the trades your algo is placing. Allowing an EA to trade without monitoring means you cannot control what it may do, outside of what is already code into its logic.

What are the Risks?

The summary risk indicator is a guide to the level of risk of this product compared to other products. It shows how likely it is that the product will lose money because of movements in the markets or because we are not able to pay you. We have classified this product as 7 out of 7, which is the highest risk class. This rates the potential losses from future performance of the product at a very high level.

All investments involve risks, including possible loss of principal. The Strategy's assets are based on Contract for Differences (CFDs) Financial Instruments and therefore involve potential for significant gain or loss due to leverage. CFDs are OTC products and cannot be sold on any exchange, MTFs or other trading venue. CFDs involve special risks, including currency fluctuation and economic and political uncertain. Changes in market, political and economic conditions will affect the performance of the Strategy. Market conditions may mean that your CFD trade is closed at a less favourable price, which could significantly impact how much you get back. CFDs may be affected by slippage or the inability to end the product at a desired price due to unavailability of such price in the market. There is no capital protection against market risk, credit risk or liquidity risk.

CFDs may fluctuate significantly in a short period of time. If the change in price is against the direction chosen by the investor, then the investor can experience significant losses over a short period of time up to a maximum of the amount held as margin in the investor's account. However, Retail investors will never owe to the Company any amount in excess of the available funds in the account in light of the contractual "Negative Balance Protection". This product does not include any protection from future market performance, so you could lose some or all of your investment. Before to use this product you should carefully read the STATEMENT.
